PERSONAL PROJECTS

NewsLetter-Signup

- Crafted a newsletter signup page leveraging Node.js, HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. Integrated the Mailchimp API to seamlessly capture user information and subscription preferences. This project highlights my ability to create interactive web interfaces, connect with external APIs, and manage user data effectively

Property Price Prediction Web Application

- Developed a web application using Flask, a Python web framework, for property price prediction. The application allows users to estimate property prices based on selected features. The project includes user authentication, input validation, and integration with a pre-trained machine learning model

Expense Tracker (06/2023 - 2023)

- Developed from scratch using Flutter and Dart, this app has been a significant part of my learning journey. With Expense Tracker, you can seamlessly manage your finances on the go. Categorize expenses for leisure, work, travel, and study, while tracking transaction dates. Easily delete entries.
